

Social Emotional Learning Google Classrooms

As the country and the world respond to the coronavirus (COVID-19), we are all experiencing a variety of emotions. At GSCS, we recognize how important it is to attend to the social and emotional needs that arise during times like these. Social and emotional learning (SEL) is the process through which children and adults understand and manage emotions, set and achieve positive goals, feel and show empathy for others, establish and maintain positive relationships, and make responsible decisions. SEL offers a powerful means to explore and express our emotions, build relationships, and support each other – children and adults alike – during this critical time.

GSCS has developed a way to continue supporting children's health, well-being, and social emotional learning. It is also going to be important for us—as school leaders, educators, and parents—to focus on our own social-emotional well-being as we look to support the social-emotional development of our students at home. To meet these needs, GSCS has put together Google Classrooms with informational resources, activities, lessons, guides, and virtual support hours to support you, your family and your students during this challenging time. Below are Google Classroom codes needed for one to join!
